Sunday Fun Day for IRSF

The Sunday Fun Day for IRSF was held on April 18th, 2010 at Strega in Salem, MA. This first time event was chaired by Wheaton Bash and Melanie McKinnon and held in honor of Mia Vincent – a newly diagnosed Rett angel. This event was driven by a community that has been incredibly supportive of a special little girl. Mia suffers from Atypical Rett Syndrome (CDKL5). Just 2 months after being diagnosed, friends of Mia's mom, Amanda, rallied together to organize this amazing event.

Special thanks to Natalie and Brannen Smith and Heidi and Rhett Burnham for rallying families from all over Utah to work the IRSF booth. Fans and families enjoyed a silent auction and learning about Rett syndrome and IRSF. Thank you to everyone for a great weekend!
