

Experiences of Parents of Children with Special Needs/Disabilities

This study will explore the experiences of parents of children with special needs/disabilities from a multicultural perspective. I hope that this study can help to raise awareness and inform positive change towards the design and use of culturally-sensitive services.

FOR PARENTS OF CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES/SPECIAL NEEDS:

Participation in the study consists of taking a 20-minute online survey, is completely confidential. Upon completion of the survey, participants will be eligible to enter a voluntary prize raffle for one of three $100 gift cards to Amazon.

Eligibility Criteria:

- You must be at least 18 years-old
- You are a parent/guardian of a child (0-21 years old) who is receiving special needs services and/or has a diagnosed or unspecified disability

Special Notes:

*The survey will remain active for up to 1 week from the time you open it. So if you can't get it done in one sitting, you can go back and complete it within that time frame.

*More than one parent of each child can participate and enter the raffle (as long as you each fill out your own survey).

If anyone is interested in the results or want to ask further questions about the study, contact me (Erin Okumoto) at e.okumoto@email.wsu.edu. You can also read more about the study by visiting the study Facebook page. Let me know if you have any questions or if you are able to help. I appreciate your consideration!

If you would like to take the survey you can access it here.